SUNDAY INTRODUCTIONS

First reading Isaiah 22:19-23
Change of leadership at any time can be critical. It was super critical at the time this was written: the Assyrians were the major threat to Jerusalem. In this reading a new leader is appointed and the role is described symbolically, pointing to the Gospel reading.

Second reading Romans 11:36-37

Awareness of the profound otherness of God is a necessary part of religious experience. Paul has just been reflecting on God's plan of salvation for Jews and Gentiles. He knows, however, that even he has no access to God's "mind"!

Gospel Matthew 16:13-20
Our reading is in two parts. The question in the first part is a question for any time—but perhaps especially today. The higher role of Peter remains a question today—it nature and the best way of putting it into practice.

Blessing of Painting of Pope Francis

Our new painting of Pope Francis painted by our Sacristan Kevin Shortt, will be blessed at 11.30am Mass on Sunday 10th September. We thank Kevin for sharing his creative talents with us.
